Town Will Cite Youth For Action

Carnival Worker Saved Young Lives

A move to forward individual resolutions of commendation and condolences by town organizations to the father of Franklin H. Nikola Jr., for the youth's heroic action Saturday afternoon, was reported underway today in Saugerties.

The 17-year-old youth lost his life when a 30-foot ferris wheel at a firemen's carnival in the village toppled on him during a violent windstorm. Eyewitnesses said the youth shoved several children from the path of the falling wheel.

Board Hears Proposal

Albert L. Giannotti, chairman of the village Zoning Board of Appeals, and associated in the local firm, Maranda Inc., Livingston Street, made the proposal at the Monday night meeting of Saugerties Village Board of Trustees.

He told the board that the Saugerties Lions Club had earlier in the evening approved sending a resolution by the service club to Franklin H. Nikola Sr., of Highland Falls, father of the victim.

The board authorized Village Clerk Ernest R. Ackert to forward a like resolution to the parent of the youth.

Giannotti said he would contact other town and village organizations to send resolutions. He suggested that organizations not contacted could also forward similar resolutions as a gesture of recognition and gratitude for the youth's heroic action.

Appoints Instructors

The board appointed Mrs. June Jasienowski and Mrs. Alja Ball, as swimming instructors at Saugerties Municipal Bathing Beach for the four week period beginning June 29. Each will receive $200 for conducting the course.

Mrs. Jasienowski appeared before the board and outlined the program for this year. She said that last year the number of those seeking instructions was so great, that it would be necessary to add another instructor in order to handle the program in this year.

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation contract for street lighting was approved at a cost of $12,705.12. The board indicated that it would pay cash (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Open Bids July 16 On $920,000 Job In Wallkill Area

Sealed bids will be opened Thursday, July 16 at the State Department of Public Works, Albany, on the widening and resurfacing of Route 208 near Route 300 intersection in Wallkill, estimated to cost $920,000.

J. Burch McMullan, state superintendent of public works announced that bids on 28 proposed highway, canal and beach protection projects estimated to cost $15,381,000 will be opened that time.

The project on Route 208 includes 5.38 miles starting at the Route 300 intersection in Wallkill and extending northward to Route 44 and 55 at Ireland Corners. The present road will be widened to 24 feet and resurfaced with asphalt concrete.

The jobs involve 99.95 miles of work in 23 counties of the state. Major jobs include a $4,964,000 section of the Eastern Expressway and a $3,256,000 portion of the Outer Loop in Rochester, Monroe County; and a $1,141,000 improvement of Route 38A southeast of Auburn in Cayuga County.

The bids will be opened publicly at 10:30 a.m. in Hearing Room No. 1 of the Gov. Alfred E. Smith State Office Building, Albany.

RESCUE 98 FROM BURNING SHIP—Ninety-eight men, including 10 Americans, safely abandoned the burning British cable ship Ocean Layer (above) 500 miles off the French coast. The crew took to lifeboats about 15 minutes after a raging fire broke out. They were picked up by the German freighter Flavia. The Ocean Layer, on charter to an American firm, was laying the west-to-east section of the first telephone cable between North America and continental Europe.

Dannemora Fights Rats Big as Cats From Dump

DANNEMORA, N. Y. (AP)—This northern New York community fought an invasion of rats to day, "some of them as big as cats."

Mayor William Donahue said Monday night the rats were coming from a dump used by Clinton State Prison. The top of the mile-square village, in the center of the mile-square village, is covered with "so many rats it appears like it's moving," he said, adding that it looked like there were millions of them.

The mayor said the rats apparently had become hungry since the prison stopped putting raw garbage on the dump. The rats now are darting through the village in search of food.

"Just tonight," Donahue said, "a little boy who lives on the same street I do killed nine with a baseball bat."

"Some people are shooting them and I'm sure not going to prohibit it as long as these rats are running around."

The mayor said prison authorities had been cooperative on the problem and the state had an exterminator at the dump Monday.

Some residents, he said, also had hired exterminators to rid their property of rats, but the rodents returned.

Donahue said he planned to make an official request for help from the Clinton County Health Department. The department said it had received a half-dozen complaints from Dannemora residents.

Those who contact the department will be furnished with mimeographed instructions on how to make their homes rat-proof, a spokesman said.

The situation is becoming progressively worse," Donahue said. "The women in the village are petrified. Some of those rats are as big as cats and I don't blame the women for not wanting to go out of the house at night. Children and everybody else will soon be imperiled."

Deckelman Dismisses Petition Upholds Police On Patrol Cars

State Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman at Albany on Monday, dismissed the petition of Dominick Di Micco, salesman for Alonso Haver Inc., of Ashokan, against the board of police commissioners and the City of Kingston to set aside a contract for purchase of five police cars from Bob Nadler Inc. of 515 Albany Avenue.

The decision was received today by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who notified the police commissioners.

No Right to Relief

Justice Deckelman denied the application of DiMicco and with other costs he dismissed the petition on the ground that the petitioner has no legal right to the relief sought under his petition and on the further ground that "there is no evidence of illegality, fraud, collusion, corruption or bad faith on the part of the respondent."

The justice also decided the award under all the circumstances was made in the best interests of the City of Kingston and the police commissioners.

On May 1, the case was argued in Supreme Court here and Justice Deckelman at that time reserved decision in the taxpayers action brought by DiMicco. The petitioner alleged Haver was the low bidder and asked that the contract awarded to Nadler be voided. The petition alleged the Nadler bid was approximately $83.75 higher for the 6-cylinder cars than Haver's bid. Three old police cars were bid. Three old police cars were involved as trade-ins.

Says Costs Considered

Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly argued that the board had considered the cost of traveling 15 miles to Ashokan for (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Strike May Force Closing of 400 A&P Stores Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the A&P food store chain say a strike of warehouse employees may force 400 stores in the New York metropolitan area to close by the end of the week.

The company said the areas affected by the strike are Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, The Bronx, part of the lower Hudson River Valley, Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester counties and southwest Connecticut.

1,400 Quit Jobs

Some 1,400 warehouse workers struck Sunday midnight in New York City and Long Island. A depot at Elmsford in Westchester County was also hit.

The walkout was called by Local 852 of the General Warehousemen's Union of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, after negotiations broke down Saturday.

The company said the union made 73 demands, many of which the company claimed were "unreasonable, impractical and would dangerously inflate our costs of doing business."

The A&P stores would remain open as long as they have supplies. The warehouse employees handle meat, produce, canned foods and other commodities. Bread and milk deliveries to the stores were not affected.

Several Days Supplies

The company estimated the stores involved had enough supplies to last for several days.

No date was set for the resumption of talks.

The union said the strikers' wages range from $36.00 a week to $2.68 an hour for hourly-paid employees.

The union seeks a $10-a-week increase and other benefits.

Dutch Items Now In Hotel Lobby

A display of maps and fine, enlarged photographs from Holland are on display in the lobby of the Governor Clinton Hotel. They include a picture of the Royal Family and are part of the cooperative program sponsored by The Netherlands Information Service and the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

The complete set consists of 24 large plates, two by two and one-half feet in size. Most of them will be on display through Thursday of this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Should any organization be interested in displaying the photographs between Friday of this week and the end of next week, they may be scheduled through the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

In making this announcement today, Albert Kurdt, chairman of the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration, said that official confirmation of the visit of Crown Princess Beatrix to Kingston in September is expected soon, including details of the itinerary.

Completing Plans For Party Dinner

Plans are nearing completion for the annual Ulster County Democratic dinner, it was announced today, and indications are that the event at Tamarack Lodge Sunday will be well attended.

Charles Ryan, general chairman, said reservations indicate one of the biggest turnouts to date for the all-day program at Tamarack, five miles west of Elenville, where all facilities of the resort will be available.

Frank Adams, chairman of reservations, and William Mahoney, ticket chairman, said they are anxious to hear from everyone who has not made arrangements by tonight so as to complete the seating plan for the dinner.

Honorary chairmen are Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston and Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville. The complete set consists of 24 large plates, two by two and one-half feet in size. Most of them will be on display through Thursday of this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Further Cut Is Sought in Funds For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members who want less money spent on foreign aid mustered today in an attempt to cut another $300 million dollars from the proposed program.

The $3,642,600,000 authorization bill before the House already represents a cut of $266,800,000 from President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said he is drafting amendments to the bill to reduce its total to about $3,300,000,000.

Supporters of foreign aid registered an impressive margin—77-93—Monday on the preliminary vote whether the House should take up the bill. It raised their hopes of warding off any further deep cuts—at least until the separate legislation actually appropriating the funds provides another test.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee brought out meaning its own version of the bill with a total authorized spending even higher than the amount Eisenhowers asked. The Senate total was $4,164,820,000 compared with $3,930,000,000 Eisenhower asked.

Seek Other Benefits

Earlier in Philadelphia, McDonald said the steel companies had indicated they were willing to raise wages by about six cents an hour on condition that the union agreed to a number of changes in the current contract.

McDonald said the proposed changes would wipe out union gains over the past 18 years and separate workers benefits by at least $2 an hour.

"I can promise you the United Steelworkers positively will never take a backward step," McDonald told an AFL-CIO conference on collective bargaining.

Steel Talks Due To Resume Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Stalemated contract negotiations in the basic steel industry will be resumed here today after a five-day recess despite a dispute over the way they are to be conducted, the head of the steel union says.

Union President David J. McDonald gave that assurance in Washington Monday after conferring with Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation Service.

Two 'Confessions' Ruled Proper as Doyle Evidence

At the Monday afternoon session of County Court County Judge Louis G. Bruhn ruled that two "confessions" alleged to have been made by Mary Doyle on November 10, after she had been questioned in regard to a shortage of funds at the local Mohican Market, should be admitted in evidence.

The two "confessions" had been the center of the contest in which Attorney Joseph Avis had made efforts to have the statements barred from the jury. In a statement to the court Avis alleged that Mrs. Doyle had been prevented from seeking counsel after she had been apprehended and that she had been held for some time without being permitted to confer with her family. This Avis held was a violation of her constitutional rights.

In admitting the statements, Judge Bruhn ruled that under the State constitution and sections of the law which are in force in the state her rights had not been violated. Avis argued that the Federal Constitution should prevail and that under that document she had been deprived of her rights. Judge Bruhn ruled that the New York State Code of Criminal Procedure prevailed in this state and allowed the jury to inspect the statements after receiving them in evidence.

At the afternoon session Joseph A. Vidal, manager of the local Western Union office, was called to the stand and told how Mrs. Doyle had come to the telegraph office and presented a check from a local restaurant and a personal check as payment for an order transmitting hospitalization funds. The fund was from employees at the market. Vidal said he questioned the transaction.

After Mrs. Doyle left the telephone office he called a local bank and found the personal check was "no good." He then notified the Mohican manager and told them of the other check. The personal check which was given to make up the difference between the restaurant check, made out to the Mohican, and the amount to be transmitted was not the check of Mrs. Doyle.

After the matter had been reported to the Mohican manager, the police were called and Mrs. Doyle was then questioned. As a result an audit was made of company funds and an alleged $10,000 shortage was discovered. Mrs. Doyle was later charged and led those assembled in the recitation of the Holy Rosary assisted by Father Reynolds. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn.

No Poles Either Sees TV Screens On Telephones Part of Future

SCHOON LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—Television screens attached to telephones... no more telephone poles and wires.

These were among the predictions made Monday by Hugh A. Barnhardt of Rochester, Ind., president of the U. S. Telephone Assn.

Microwave communications eventually will eliminate telephone poles and wires from the landscape, Barnhardt said. In addition, microwave will extend telephone service to customers in the most isolated areas.

Television screens attached to telephones in the "not too distant future," Barnhardt also predicted, will help enable telephone conferences to replace business conventions.

Barnhardt spoke at the 37th annual convention of the New York State Telephone Assn. About 500 delegates are attending the three-day convention, which extends through tomorrow.

Branning Is Out As Owego Chief

OWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—The resignation of Owego's police chief became effective today, in the midst of a grand jury investigation that apparently is focused on the village police department.

G. Howard Branning, 39, was closed with the jurors Monday for one hour and 20 minutes. He had been served with a subpoena earlier in the day.

Branning disappeared from Owego May 18 for a week during a state audit of police and other village records. He returned May 24 and submitted his resignation May 25.

Since then he has been on a leave of absence. Through his attorney, he said that he quit because of a lack of cooperation. He also said that police department records were in order, as far as he knew.

At the time of Branning's resignation, his counsel said that the police chief intended to make himself available until the special audit was completed.

The grand jury also heard testimony Monday from Village Clerk Paul Martin and Cameron Pierce, one of the two State Department of Audit and Control examiners who are checking the village records.

The grand jury will meet again Wednesday, Dist. Atty. George Boldman said.

Ex-Nazi Rocket Boss Now Veep Of Bell Aircraft

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The man who headed Nazi Germany's rocket base at Peenemuende in World War II has been elected a vice president of the Bell Aircraft Corp.

Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, rocket and space-travel specialist, was elected to the post Monday. He has been director of engineering for Bell's Niagara Frontier division.

Stockholders also elected three II.

Fined for Battery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thomas T. Chamale, the novelist, has been fined $300 and placed on two years probation on a battery charge resulting from arguments last March with his wife, Helen O'Connell, a singer. Chamale, fined Monday, wrote "Never So Few," a novel based on his combat experience during World War II.

Everything Lost By Couple in Tonawanda Blast

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A one-story suburban home was demolished and a nearby house badly damaged by an explosion and fire Monday.

"We've lost everything but the clothes we're wearing," said Norbert Wilke, 26-year-old factory worker. The loss was put at $30,000.

Wilke and his wife were at work when the blast ripped their home in Tonawanda.

Lt. Richard Winters of the Tonawanda police was eating lunch with his wife and three children at their home next to the Wilkes'. "We felt the house rock," he said, "and then the west wall of the Wilke home smashed against our home." Flames reached the Winters house but there was no damage estimate. No one was hurt.

Firemen said leaking gas may have caused the blast.

LESSON FROM A BROKEN HEART

Anatol Holt is a most thoughtful and a most compassionate man. The whole nation knows now of the remarkable letter he wrote to the people of Philadelphia the morning after his three-year-old daughter was strangled by the "model" 15-year-old son of a neighbor.

He did not stop saying thoughtful things when that letter was written. Basically it was a forgiving document, saying he wanted to help the boy and to understand him. It was also an appeal to parents everywhere to take care of their children, and this he made again at his daughter's funeral.

He asked those who came not to spend their time "moaning and groaning." Instead, he said, "spend it in care, because you own nothing that you do not care for."

Those words could well be emblazoned on billboards the country over. For this is an age in which there is too little caring.

Holt is thinking mainly about human beings caring for one another. But the meaning of his words is broader.

We must care not only for family, friends, associates, humanity itself. We have to care for our possessions and those of others, to treat them well. We have to care, too, for our standing in human society as individuals who will be judged on the general counts of character and moral behavior, of ability and industry, of goals and ideals.

You own nothing that you do not care for.

The man who treats his possessions as carelessly as a picnicker might a paper plate never really takes title to them.

The man who has no pride of accomplishment, who never works his best nor his hardest, who has no goals and no standards, does not even own himself.

There can be few consolations for the tragedy of tiny Becky Holt. One of the few is that we heard the thoughtful warnings of her father. Let us hope that some will heed his words.

Red China wants to develop communes with mass appeal. Up to now there's been plenty of mass but little appeal.

Canadians average 497 phone conversations per person per year, which makes them the champions. We're willing for them to retain the title.

An Air Force simulated space cabin sounds mighty uncomfortable. But even if the accommodations were deluxe, we'd hesitate to sign up for a jaunt.

A Tampa man underwent his first tooth extraction at 82, and said it didn't hurt a bit. Maybe, after 82 years, the tooth was a little loose.

STEAK AT TWO A.M.

It is the uncrowned king among truisms that we are all creatures of habit. When we break out of the established pattern, we usually feel either uncomfortable or daring. And if others alter the pattern, we think of them as being rather odd.

To illustrate: The other day there was an item about a man, awakened by a strange noise at two in the morning, who saw a neighbor broiling a steak in his yard. A most peculiar thing! Broiling a steak, alone, in the middle of the night!

Yet is it so strange? Picture the neighbor awakening with a yen for steak. Instead of turning over and going to sleep again, or settling for a bowl of cornflakes, this individualist bestires himself to broil the steak.

And what, really, does it matter that the hour is two a. m.? What, really, does it matter that other men lie snoring? What does it matter, even, if they wake up and peer foggily out their bedroom windows and see that Jones is having a solitary cookout in the wee hours? It may seem rather odd to us, but we don't consider the steak-broiler odd. He's a sensible man, no creature of habit, who knows what he wants. And we wish we had his nerve.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE OLYMPIC GAMES

Somebody in the International Olympic Committee goofed and the United States International Olympic Committee ought, in justice to itself and to sportsmanship in general, forthwith resign from the whole business and let the Russians have it.

For this is what has happened. Despite the fact that the United States does not recognize Red China and does not recognize Nationalist China, the International Olympic Committee ousted Nationalist China from membership. Despite the fact that the United Nations does not recognize Red China, the International Olympic Committee does. The face-saving device is that Red China will not participate until 1964 when the games will be held in Tokyo, but why should Nationalist China attend for one day after it has been so startlingly invited.

The 1960 winter contests of the International Olympic Committee are to be held in Squaw Valley, California, which is still in the United States, and those who come to the games require American visas to get into the country. If those visas are refused by the State Department, it will be proof that the State Department still conducts the foreign policy of the United States. If any athletes from Red China claim a right to participate, how can they get visas?

Avery Brundage of Chicago is president of the International Olympic Committee. He said in an interview that the expulsion of Nationalist China was "almost unanimous" in the vote of the committee. From that it is to be assumed that the "almost" means that the American members of the committee did not vote in favor of such an outrageous proposition.

But Brundage and other members of the United States committee will be asking the American people to contribute funds for this committee and for the show at Squaw Valley. It would be a mark of disapproval if Americans avoided contributing to such an organization which deliberately flouts American policy and bows to Russian might.

This is a small matter. The Olympic Games have lost caste because some countries, particularly those behind the Iron Curtain, have a different definition of "amateur" than we do. In a Communist country, where there is no private enterprise, everybody works for the State. A man who devoted himself to athletics is neither an amateur nor a professional in such a country. He is, in effect, a citizen who works for the State. He actually serves the State by engaging in a form of nationalistic propaganda by demonstrating, which Russia seeks to do, its superiority in every field of human endeavor.

In Western countries, amateur standing is altogether different. It means that a person devotes his spare time to a sport; that he receives no compensation for his sports activities. In fact, at certain periods of American moral rigidity, an amateur athlete accepted any gift he was handed from non-professional sports.

Actually, it was the American colleges which lowered the morals of sportsmanship by providing "athletic scholarships" to football players and such, thus establishing the rule that compensation to amateurs is permissible if called by another name. Racketeers got into the basketball business and corrupted that. Baseball became entirely professional. Nevertheless, there is still, in the Western world, considerable amateur sportsmanship and while sports do not have the widespread appeal that they had before movies and television and the automobile attracted youngsters, contests in the games continue.

What the International Olympic Committee has done is a basically unsportsmanlike act. Soviet Russia trains hordes of men and women for the Olympic Games, making such participation a full time job. By definition, there can be no amateurs in a Communist country because a person's time is the property of the State. Soviet Russia is mighty; Nationalist China is small and weak. The International Olympic Committee agrees to abide by the will of the strong and, in effect, tells the weak that if they want to participate in the Olympic Games, they must change—their name may no longer be China. It is like telling an athlete with a non-WASP name that he must change it to be acceptable. This is not sport; it is politics and the International Olympic Committee does not exist for politics.

One of the curses of our age is that politics touches everything and every man regards himself as a diplomat, playing his own game, as though he really knew how.

★ Dr. Jordan Says: ★
Craving for Strange 'Foods' Has Some Weird Examples

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

What seems to be a rather common problem is brought up by Mrs. T.

She says: "Why does a person want to eat starch? I have this habit and find myself craving the stuff just as I do food and water. When I get my hands on ordinary clothes starch and take a couple pieces into my mouth it seems as if it is the best thing I ever had."

This is the condition known as pica, which involves a craving for such substances as starch, clay, plaster, ashes, charcoal, dirt and the like. The most authoritative discussion of this subject that I know of is a book published about three years ago by Marcia Cooper, carrying the title "Pica."

The name "pica" comes from the Latin magpie, apparently because this bird picks up a number of peculiar objects to satisfy hunger or curiosity. It is fairly common in young children, but occurs in grownups of both sexes and particularly in women during pregnancy or lactation.

Pica has been observed in domestic animals as well as in human beings. It is perhaps from studying such strange appetites in animals that we may eventually learn more about its basic causes.

In her book Miss Cooper reports an original study of pica carried out in Baltimore, Md. One question she asked was: "Does your child have a habit, or did he ever have a habit, of eating dirt, plaster, ashes or the like?" Of the 784 children examined, 172, or more than one in five, had a record of pica.

In most of the habit became established during the second year of life and disappeared around the age of four or five. Sometimes the habit lasted longer.

In the case of one child, who was nearly 11 years old and still eating clay, it was found her mother and grandmother also ate clay. It was their custom to get a large sack of refined clay from a Baltimore brick yard for this purpose.

Many of the youngsters ate plaster which they often dug from walls with great determination.

Miss Cooper studied pica in relationship to intelligence, behavior problems, weight at birth, physical defects and age of weaning. None of these appeared to play a part in the development of pica, but the state of general nutrition did. There was a much higher proportion of feeding problems in children with pica than in those without.

Miss Cooper concludes that pica in human beings is most frequent in time of famine; in those whose diets are deficient, or in periods of life when pregnancy or lactation make heavy demands on the nutrition.

This extraordinary variation from the usual deserves still more study both in children and in grownups.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Fund for the Republic — which hasn't been heard of much for quite a spell — is stirring up the animals again with its latest report on "The Condition of Our Political Parties."

Stephen K. Bailey of Princeton

— has only one vague suggestion as to what this formula might be. It's a tough problem.

IT SHOULD BE MADE CLEAR here that Fund for the Republic doesn't endorse Bailey's recommendations. The Fund has just printed and distributed them as interesting ideas.

Bailey's qualifications for writing the report are that he was once mayor of Middletown, Conn., former administrative assistant to Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.) and author of a couple of awfully good books, "Congress at Work" and "Congress Makes a Law." He has seen politics from the inside and he knows that it is not always perfect.

Both major parties are broke — which is also the condition of the Communist "Daily Worker." People just don't have anything for politics in these prosperous times.

Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats can agree on what they stand for or against.

As for either party exercising any control over its run-of-the-mill members or its representatives in government — it is to laugh.

FIVE OF THE NINE recommendations which Fund for the Republic's report makes for correcting these conditions will strike most politicians just as they are, in oversimplified form:

— Tax-supported financing for both major parties.

— Expand two-party competition to all states and all congressional districts.

— Provide social and office facilities for both parties on the Mall between White House and Capitol.

— Four-year terms for representatives, eight-year terms for senators, electing half the senators every four years.

— Find a mathematical formula to give more seniority to congressmen who come from two-party states.

It is noteworthy that the author of this report — Prof. Bailey reform program will arouse less controversy. They are:

— Create permanent advisory councils for both parties. (The Democrats have one now; the GOP is forming one.)

— Repeal the 22nd Amendment, which limits a president to two terms. (It has been tried and found wanting.)

— Develop a roster of talented people for executive posts in the national government. (The more the better.)

The passengers often provided their own provisions or sometimes boarded with the captain at the sloop's table. The well-to-do brought cooked eatables in chests. It was said those large chests were fitted with compartments for the old-fashioned "Holland gin" necessary for just such journeys. The chests had enough food for continuous eating for the entire journey, and later held the items bought in the big city.

It is said, the first freight from Kingston to New York was carried in four sloops of 100 tons each, two of which were the Comptroller and the Martin Wynkoop from The Strand (Kingston Landing). The others were the Convoy and Convention, from Tappan, owned by Tappon, Ellinge & Co. Each sloop made a trip every two weeks. Two left the Rondout Creek on Friday and two left New York on Saturday.

Educational TV Fine, Cortland Students Agree

CORTLAND, N. Y. (AP) — The reaction of local students to educational television is "nearly 100 per cent favorable," a school official reports.

Dr. Franklyn S. Barry, Cortland school superintendent, said Monday the students definitely did not feel that classroom TV was a "one-eyed monster."

Students at Compton College, Compton, Calif., used the phrase last week when more than 200 cut classes and picketed the campus. They carried placards protesting "automatized education" and "robot classrooms."

The Compton students objected to the absence of a teacher to whom they could talk.

At the Cortland-Truxton - Virgil schools, instructors are present in each classroom where television is used, and the system has a "talk-back" feature that enables students to reach instructors in the studio for answers and explanations.

Officers Elected By Olive Legion

Olive Memorial Post 1627, American Legion, Ashokan, New York has elected new officers for the 1959-60 year.

H. Edgar Timmerman of West Shokan was elected commander; others include John Grant of Shokan, first vice commander; Herbert Wells of West Shokan, second vice commander; and Donald F. Bishop of West Shokan, third vice commander.

Charles W. Wood of West Shokan will be adjutant for the coming year with Lewis Buley of West Shokan as finance officer. John Darling of Krumville, veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War I was re-elected chaplain; Edward West of Allaben was re-elected historian. Vice-Commander Herbert Wells will also act as service officer.

The incoming past commander, Eugene Nicholas of West Shokan, was elected sergeant-at-arms. Nicholas was presented with a past commander's pin with three bars reflecting his three terms as post commander, in 1947, 1957 and 1959, an unusual record.

Donald Bishop was re-elected trustee for three years. Commander Timmerman was named delegate-at-large to the Ulster County American Legion with Simon Trowbridge of Olive Bridge as alternate.

Excessive Utility Profits Bad for Industry: Lundy

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP) — Any rate increases that gave excessive profits to public utilities in New York State would be a roadblock to new business and industry, an indication to capital to bypass this state for opportunities elsewhere.

James A. Lundy said reasonable rates and ability to meet needs of new industry "are a strong attraction to capital seeking areas for economic development."

His remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the New York State Telephone Assn., an organization of independent telephone companies.

Lundy, who was appointed PSC chairman by Gov. Rockefeller earlier this year, said the commission would help the utilities under its jurisdiction serve the best interests of the state as a whole.

But, he said, "I am not inviting a flood of requests for utility-rate increases. . . . I firmly believe that the utility companies, as a matter of intelligent, economic self-interest, will not seek excessive profits by increasing the cost of their services.

"Such a course would be a roadblock to new business and industry, an indication to capital to bypass this state for opportunities elsewhere."

Let Nation Decide Merits of Program, Dems Challenge Ike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confident Democrats challenged President Eisenhower today to seek a verdict from the people on his legislative program.

If Eisenhower carries his case to the public in television-radio and other speeches, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said in an interview the Democrats will be ready for battle.

"We'll carry our fight to the people, too, on the basis of the record we are making in Congress," Mansfield said. "I think it is a good idea for the President to report to the people and let them decide on the basis of the record, as they have in the last three congressional elections."

Mansfield's chief Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told the Senate Monday that Republicans who are criticizing this as a "do nothing" Congress "will wake up some time late in September and find out it just ain't so."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate minority leader, backed up the contention of Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, that Eisenhower is the best salesman the Republicans have.

Dirksen said Eisenhower had discussed with GOP congressional leaders the possibility of 15-minute TV-radio appearances to whip up support for foreign aid, labor regulation and other administration bills which have come under heavy Democratic attack.

"The President thinks it is his duty to keep the people informed about the way the Democratic Congress is handling his program," Dirksen said.

Asked if one of the objectives would be to build up popular support for possible vetoes of Democratic-sponsored spending bills, Dirksen said yes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Aluminums and selected steels made progress in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was slow.

Gains and losses of key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point. The popular market averages were down slightly but gains by issues not represented in the averages produced some bright spots in the list.

Carpenter Steel gained more than a point.

The aluminums resumed their advance of last week on glowing industry reports, spurred further by talk today of a price increase if labor negotiations result in a wage boost.

Youngstown Sheet spurted more than 4 while Lukens gained 2 points or so. U.S. Steel dropped about a point. Jones & Laughlin gained slightly.

Chrysler was ahead a bit. Ford and General Motors eased. Good-year continued its recent upside, added more than a point. American Telephone backed away another fraction.

have vetoed some bills. In Long's absence, acting Gov. Lether Frazer Monday signed or vetoed the last of the bills passed by the Louisiana Legislature, which adjourned a week ago.

In his petition for the writ of habeas corpus hearing Long said he was a "governor in exile by force and kidnaping." He charged he was drugged, tied to a stretcher and carried aboard a National Guard plane for the flight to Galveston May 30.

Not Testifying

Judge Godard asked Long if he wanted to testify.

At the suggestion of his three court-appointed attorneys, Long answered: "I believe it would be better if I didn't testify. I sometimes get a little excited."

However, as expected, the often tempestuous governor broke into the testimony at times. His interruptions were calm, usually drawing smiles.

His actions and words were distinctly reversed from his performances before the Louisiana Legislature three weeks ago that led his wife Blanche to commit the governor to John Sealy Hospital and sign papers that he was mentally ill.

Agree With Wife

The governor's cousin, Dr. Arthur Long, and other family members agreed with Mrs. Long's decision.

During the testimony, an attorney asked one witness: "Did you know if Dr. Long was a psychiatrist?"

"And a horse doctor," the governor cracked.

Another witness, asked "who were present at the mansion when Dr. Long administered the hypodermics," answered: "To the best of my knowledge, it was Dr. Long and two orderlies."

"Bone crushers," the governor interjected.

Gets No Reply

At one point, the governor asked his nephew: "How much will you charge to run?" Sen. Long didn't reply.

Maj. Gen. Raymond Huff, Louisiana adjutant general, told the court Long was drugged and whisked away by force.

Reliable sources told The Associated Press members of the Long family have taken steps to have the governor committed to a Louisiana hospital should he be released in Texas.

Realizing this, the informants said, the governor was trying to contact Louisiana Police Supt. John Nick Brown to ready a hand-picked guard of troopers to prevent his seizure when, and if, he returns to Louisiana.

RUSSIA ON WHEELS---(3) The Railroad Boom

Soviet Russia today is pushing railroads across its vast area at a rate reminiscent of that in the United States during the last century.

"Russia," writes Railway Age editor Robert G. Lewis, "is pacing its great industrial boom with an all-out expansion program. . . . I watched freight trains go by in an incessant parade, one almost right behind the other, 24 hours a day."

Pictures above and others in this series were taken by Lewis on a rail tour of the Soviet Union.

Gets Two Contracts

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Two defense contracts totaling $1,089,197 have been received by the Cheektowaga plant of the American Machine & Foundry Co.

The contracts are for torpedo parts and launchers from the Sergeant guided missile, the company announced Monday.

Employment at the suburban plant is expected to rise from 500 to 700 by next year.

Mushroom With Omelet

Cook sliced mushrooms in butter, add salt and pepper and then spread over an omelet before folding or rolling. A little onion (minced raw or the instant type) will point up the mushroom flavor.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Well sir, it was the durndest thing ya ever saw.

This here dude sheriff from the big city, why, he disarmed a whole bunch of husky gunslingers in town from Las Vegas, way out west of Lake Erie.

There were 24 of 'em, too, the entire Nevada delegation to this here Jaycee convention going on in town.

About 10,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members are attending the meeting, and these Las Vegas boys showed up among 'em Monday dressed to a fare-thee-well—boots, ten-gallon hats, bright shirts and 45 caliber six-shooters.

Before a hand could drop to a holster, Erie County Sheriff Robert Glaser had the drop on the lot of 'em. Yessir, he flashed the state's Sullivan Law and stopped 'em dead in their tracks.

That's the law, you know, that makes it illegal to pack a shooting iron without a permit.

Well, there was some grumbling at first. Seems that back home the boys are all deputy sheriffs themselves. And they weren't carrying anything but blanks.

But when Glaser suggested, sorta pointed like, that they turn in the guns, that's just what they did. And then they filled their holsters with flowers.

Sweetest bunch of deputy sheriffs ya ever smelled.

NEW PALTZ NEWSMicrofilms Are Added to Library

Due to the generosity of the late Alfred Harcourt, as well as that of friends of the late James Oliver LeFevre, the Elting Memorial Library announces the acquisition of a series of microfilms of issues of the New Paltz Independent and Times, dating from the year 1892 through the year 1958.

The possession of the films makes it possible for anyone interested to follow the history of New Paltz in detail for the last 65 years. Kenneth Hasbrouck, town historian, provided the board of trustees of the library with complete issues of the paper for the last 25 years.

In the will of Mr. Harcourt the Elting Memorial Library was given a bequest and at the death of Mr. LeFevre the New Paltz Chamber of Commerce was made a contribution in his memory.

With these two funds the board of trustees arranged for the microfilming of the newspapers as a fitting memorial to these two good friends of the library and of New Paltz.

Alfred Harcourt, the son of Charles M. and Gitty M. Elting Harcourt, was born in New Paltz in 1881 and died in Santa Barbara, Calif. in 1954. He was one of the founders of the publishing house of Harcourt, Brace and Company. During his lifetime he was a frequent visitor in New Paltz and was continuously generous with his support of the Elting Memorial Library, not only with financial aid but also with copies of many of the books published by his firm.

James Oliver LeFevre, the son of Ralph and Esther Oliver LeFevre, was born in New Paltz in 1879, and died here in 1956. He was publisher and editor of the New Paltz Independent from the time of the death of his father in 1925 until his own death. He was prominently identified with the various activities in the community over a long period of time.

His widow, Mrs. Laura Woodward LeFevre, and their son, Ralph, continue to carry on the publication of the paper.

A positive copy of the microfilms and a reader for them will be in New Paltz State Teachers College Library. It will be listed in the catalogs of both libraries. The library has a local history collection, with special emphasis on New Paltz but including the whole Mid-Hudson area. Through the efforts of Robert Lang, college librarian, the positive copy of the microfilms was acquired as part of the collection. It is available for easy reference to anyone interested. At the present time this is only positive copy but in years to come it is hoped that the Elting Library will have a microfilm reader. It is also hoped that this will be the first of many microfilms which will make the historical areas more readily accessible to those interested.

Leaves It to Jury

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The veteran prosecutor in the Tallahassee rape case said he never demands the death penalty in capital cases because he felt this is a matter for the jury to decide. State Atty. William D. Hopkins made the comment Monday when asked why he hadn't called for the death penalty in the case of four white youths tried for rape of a Negro coed.

An all-white jury convicted the four. They escaped the electric chair when the jury recommended mercy.

Johnson, Rayburn in Middle For Too Conservative Roles

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Those powerful Texas twins—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, leaders of the House and Senate Democrats — are in a strange spot for them. They're in the middle.

Republicans berate this heavily Democratic Congress, where Johnson and Rayburn are undisputed bosses, for trying to go too far. Now some leading Democrats are swiping at the two Texans for not leading the Democrats far enough.

Odd Turn of Events

This is an odd turn of events for this shrewd pair of politicians. They started this year with a Congress where the Democrats, because of their 1958 election victory had an almost overwhelming majority.

It was thought then — because of the big Democratic majority and the fact President Eisenhower was in the last two years of his second and last term — that Johnson and Rayburn, not Eisenhower, would call the tune and the shots.

The Democrats talked of programs far broader than Eisenhower had in mind. But this was at a time when the country still didn't know whether it was truly pulling out of the 1958 recession.

Big programs — and big-spending programs — might have been a necessity if the recession continued. But it didn't. The country was moving out of recession into another potential boom.

Put on Defensive

And Eisenhower, probably with the help of some smart political advice, found a way to put the Democratic majority on the defensive. This was in his campaign — sounded over and over — against the danger of inflation and big spending.

He put the label "big spenders" on the Democrats. It made them self-conscious.

Country Would Suffer

That's free advice but begs the question. If Johnson and Rayburn push legislation they think the country needs, but only to get it vetoed and end up with no legislation at all, the country is worse off than if Johnson and Rayburn had pushed less far-reaching legislation which Eisenhower did not veto.

In other words, while the Democrats got a talking point in 1960, the country would suffer. Since Johnson and Rayburn ignore the council, they'll probably ignore this and go along on compromises.

Police Say Raid Cracks $50,000 Numbers Racket

NEW YORK (AP)—Police raided an apartment on Manhattan's upper East Side Monday night and cracked what they said was a $50,000-a-day numbers racket.

Seven men were taken into custody.

Police said they found $22,000 hidden in a closet, and the men had $8,000 in their pockets.

Thousands of numbers slips lay on tables in the three-room apartment, on the ninth floor of an 18-story apartment building at 239 E. 79th St.

Police rode up in the elevator with one man, described as the head of the ring, as they saw him enter the building. Then they walked in on the man who lived in the apartment, described as the banker.

The five other men, who police said controlled the racket in several parts of the city, were arrested as they walked in.

Port Ewen Meeting Slated On Bus Program For Local Pupils

An informal meeting concerning the transportation of pupils to Kingston will be held Wednesday 8 p. m. at the town auditorium, sponsored by the Port Ewen Parent-Teacher Association.

Helen Oberkirch, president, has issued the following bulletin on transportation policy:

All high school and parochial students (grades 7-12) living on Salem Street, Gurney Street and those south of Salem Street or south of the traffic light at Salem Street and Broadway, including all Broadway house numbers 176 and up, will be transported.

All high school and parochial students (grades 7-12) north of Salem Street including Bayard Street house numbers from 1-172 and Broadway numbers from 1-175 and Slightsburg, will not be transported.

All parochial children (grades 6) will be transported.

All children living south of Canal Street on the east side of Broadway (9-W) will be transported.

On any individual cases in doubt, the following rule will apply:

Any elementary (k-6) child living more than one mile from the school of attendance shall be transported.

Any high school students (grades 7-12) living more than two miles from the school of attendance shall be transported.

She urges all parents and interested persons to attend the meeting.

Woman Suffers Injuries

Katherine Osterhoudt of New Paltz suffered a fractured nose and lacerations of the face in a two car accident Monday at 9 p. m. on Route 299 about 300 feet east of the Thruway interchange at Ohioville. She was treated by Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz. The accident happened when a car owned and operated by Fritz Rexhouse, 60, of Clinton Hollow Road, Salt Point, slowed down for construction going on at that point. A car operated by Fred Osterhoudt, 47, of New Paltz, was unable to stop, state police report, and struck the rear of the Rexhouse car. Both cars were traveling east. The accident happened at a point where the new Thruway-Highland route exit is under construction.

• BRIDGESingleton Queen Cues Slam Play

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
There are a lot of ways to bid today's hand. Playing with Mrs. Charles Scholer in a Missoula, Mont., duplicate, Conrad Orr took the simple way and just bid six no-trump after checking for aces.

The contract is a good one and should make easily with any reasonable break in hearts but the hearts don't happen to break reasonably.

West opened the four of spades and East's queen lost to Mr. Orr's king. He promptly led the deuce of hearts and after West played the queen he won in dummy and studied the whole hand.

If West held queen-jack he would make seven. If West held queen-small he could make six simply. He decided that West was not the sort of man who would play the queen from queen-small and planned his play on the basis that the queen was singleton.

Two more spade leads produced a club discard from East. Three club leads caused him to drop a diamond. It would have been a give-up play to let a heart go. Now three diamond leads left East with nothing but hearts. Mr. Orr led a heart and played low from dummy. East won but had to lead back a heart for the slam.

Planes, Copters Search Bay Area For Three Youths

NEW YORK (AP) — Coast Guard planes and helicopters swept over lower New York Bay today in a search for three youths missing since Sunday in an outboard motorboat.

The three, all from Staten Island, are Edward DeBoer, 17, his brother, Woodrow Jr., 20, and Richard DeNardo, 17.

The trio set out about 3:30 p.m. Sunday in a 14-foot outboard for a pleasure cruise. Winds gusting up to 40 m. p. h. Sunday, and the bay was sept by stiff winds for the second day Monday.

Albany Firms Are Discarding Use of Thin Plastic Bags

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Two of the largest dry-cleaning firms in the Albany area are returning to old-fashioned paper bags as covering for cleaned articles, discontinuing thin plastic bags.

The thin plastic has been blamed recently for the deaths of a number of children who suffocated.

In Washington, meanwhile, the U. S. Surgeon General warned Monday that the use of plastic dry cleaning as bedding for infants is the principal cause of suffocation deaths from the bags.

Only one death investigated in six cases, he said, plastic dry cleaning bags used as improvised mattress covers, pillow covers or blanket protectors caused suffocation.

The 49 victims counted so far range in age from 13 days to three years, Burney said, adding that 41 were less than one year old.

"Reporting such cases is entirely voluntary," Burney said, "and it is quite possible that there have been additional cases."

He said 10 cases between May 2 and June 7 were investigated intensively by the service. In six cases, he said, plastic dry cleaning bags used as improvised mattress covers, pillow covers or blanket protectors caused suffocation.

In New York City Monday, the Board of Health approved a regulation requiring warning labels on commercial plastic bags.

WHO'S IT? DAD OF COURSE
Who's the boy who gets gifts and attentions on Father's Day? It's Dad of course. Who's the man who tries to save money, only to find the cash dwindling more and more? It's Dad of course. Who is it that works and works and doesn't grumble too much about it? It's Dad for sure. Who is it that three times a year, opens gifts and then at the end of the month opens the bills? It's Dad of course. And who's the guy who keeps baby up late as a tot and complains loudly when baby as a teenager stays out too late? It's Dad. Who's the grownup who finally gets around to hanging screen doors and doing the odd jobs around home? Sure it's Dad. Who is it that always is ready to listen to your troubles, whose advice is experience-timed? It's Dad. It's Dad who carries many of the family woes, who laughs the loudest at familiar jokes. Dad's it! —Eloise M. Gruber.

The young man was out shopping for an engagement ring. Young Man—You want $100 for that? Why Bernstein down the street sold this very same ring for $50 right up to the day he went bankrupt.

A famed matador was fighting in the bull ring of a small town in Mexico near the American border where many of the spectators in the stands were seeing their first bull fight. Among those was an old Texas cowboy. The fight had reached the stage where the matador, armed with only a cape, was taunting the animal's sharp horns by mere fractions of an inch, and flipping the cape aside as the bull charged past. At last the old cowboy could stand it no longer. He rose to his feet and shouted:

"Bud, he ain't never gonna run into that sack unless you hold it still!"

The doctor was taken to the patient's room but came down in a few minutes and asked for a screw driver. Five minutes later he was back and asked for a pair of pliers. Soon after he demanded a chisel and hammer.

Business Area Is Left in Ruins by Fire in Ontario

LANARK, Ont. (AP) — A fire whipped by high winds left Mayor Bob Dowdall estimated the damage at more than two million dollars. He said the blaze started in a heap of shavings at the planing mill of his own sash and door shop.

Sixteen business buildings, 20 homes, the town hall and the fire department were destroyed. More than 100 residents were homeless but no one was reported hurt.

Winds gusting up to more than 40 miles an hour carried sparks 50 feet across the Clyde River from the business district to the residential area. The fire roared out of control for four hours until rain began to fall late in the afternoon.

Firemen answered the alarm from Ottawa, 35 miles to the northeast, and from six neighboring communities.

Music Teacher Is Given 18 Months

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A federal judge has sentenced a music teacher to 18 months in prison for conspiring to buy counterfeit U. S. currency in Canada and bring it into this country.

Jack L. Sanow of Massena had pleaded guilty May 21. Judge James T. Foley sentenced him Monday to serve 18 months on each of three counts, the terms to run concurrently. He dismissed three other counts in the indictment returned May 1 by a federal grand jury at Syracuse.

Joseph F. Coville of Moira, who was indicted with Sanow, appeared in court for arraignment. He told the judge he wanted to plead innocent but had not yet obtained an attorney. Foley returned him to the custody of the marshal.

Coville surrendered to State Police at St. Regis Falls June 7.

In other cases:

Charles H. Clark, 57, an employee of the Glens Falls Post Office for 39 years, was placed on probation for three years on the condition that he continue psychiatric treatment. Clark had pleaded guilty to stealing a letter containing currency.

Robert E. Thomas of Little Falls, a teller in Oneida National Bank of Utica, was given a two-year, suspended sentence and placed on probation for two years. He had pleaded guilty to embezzlement of $1,080 in 1958.

24.1 PC of State Roads Deficient, Survey Discloses

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A State Public Works Department survey shows 24.1 per cent of the state's highways are "deficient in structure or capacity."

In a report based on a 1958 survey of the 13,101 miles of state highways, the department Monday rated 3,168 miles as substandard compared with 4,535 miles in that category 10 years ago.

Interstate and arterial routes, mostly of recent construction, were not included.

Public Works Superintendent J. Burch McMoran said the report indicated the state was "gradually catching up with its highway needs."

The roads were judged according to physical condition and traffic capacity.

Thirty-five per cent of the state's highways were rated "less than tolerable" in a 1949 study.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The nations seem to be choosing up sides to-day for world trade.

American manufacturers, miners and farmers who sell their products overseas, or would like to—and American businessmen who see foreign products competing with them here at home—have something new to deal with: trading blocs.

The latest taking shape is the Outer Seven.

It is nudging in alongside the Inner Six.

In the talking stage are trading blocs for Latin America, for some new African nations, and perhaps for the Moslem lands.

An older and well established one is the British Commonwealth group, strung across the globe. Its nations enjoy certain preferential treatment.

And one whose shape is both vague and fearsome is the Communist League. Its effect on world trade is uncertain but already disturbing.

The United States, long accustomed to being a top factor in world trade, may find increasing competition from the blocs as they grow stronger. The slip in its own export trade has been showing for some time.

The newest bloc being mulled over today is the Trading Association outlined in the meeting of seven European countries in Stockholm, Sweden.

Their avowed aim is to put themselves — Britain, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Portugal — in a position of strength in dealing with the Inner Six, or Common Market lands. These are Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. Both groups hope to cut tariffs by 20 per cent a year from now. American business can't object to that. What they worry about is the long term goal.

This is, in time, to unite all the West European nations into one huge trading area with no barriers, whether tariffs or import quotas, on trade among themselves, but with a common tariff on imports from the rest of the world.

If this comes about, and if the tariff wall turns out to be higher than Europeans now say they expect it to be, Americans may be effectively cut off from this important world market.

Also they may find a competing bloc so strong economically that American goods may lose in still more world trade markets.

American industry will be given new cause to re-appraise its methods: its production costs, its pricing and credit policies, the quality of its old products and its search for new and better ones.

But for the time being public

Women's Guild Sets Date for Strawberry Social in Old Hurley

A strawberry social on June 27 in Old Hurley was announced by Mrs. H. Gersback, chairman of the Women's Guild of the Hurley Reformed Church. This will be the eighth annual social sponsored by the Women's Guild. This year, it will be held on the lawn of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Harder, Route 209, Hurley.

In case of rain, it will be held in the Hurley Fire Hall. Strawberry shortcake will be served at 1 p.m. by the 4-H Busy Bees attired in quaint Dutch costumes, in keeping with the Dutch ancestry of Old Hurley, after which, there will be card playing and a social gathering.

Public is invited. A member of the guild may be contacted for reservations.

Hospital Auxiliary Executive Board Holds Its Meeting

The executive board meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary was held at the Nurses Residence on Friday, June 12.

In planning the programming of activities for the coming year, the executive board placed particular interest on the report of the Nurses Recruitment Committee given by Mrs. Irving Josephson, chairman. In order to supplement this work, Mrs. Kirkland F. Snyder, president, established the Student Nurses Social Activities Committee with Mrs. George Numrich and Mrs. Gifford Beal, co-chairmen.

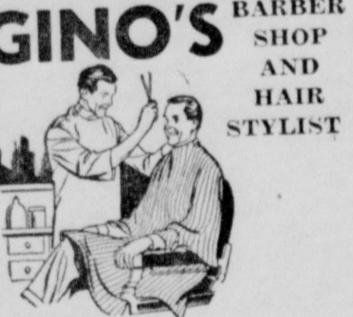

Mrs. Robert Harkins, co-chairman of the Candy Stripers activity announced a new training program for the junior volunteers to be conducted by Mrs. Anthony Turck. Girls completing the training program and giving 50 hours to the hospital will receive teenage volunteer pins. Upon completion of 100 hours volunteer service a capping ceremony for the Candy Stripers will be held.

The new membership committee chairman, Mrs. T. R. Smallwood, announced a program to acquaint the prospective members with the variety of activities in the hospital performed by volunteer workers.

It was announced that auxiliary volunteers must order their smocks or pinapones from the desk or sales car by July 15.

Prior to the meeting, a buffet was served by Mrs. Kirkland F. Snyder. Punch was served by Mrs. Dominic Clione and Mrs. Irving Josephson. The serving table was decorated with a lovely arrangement of garden flowers.

Kathleen Joyce of Kingston Exchanges Marriage Vows With Francis L. Watzka

The Rev. Vincent O'Reilly, SSE, of Mobile, Ala., officiated at the marriage of his cousin, Miss Kathleen Elizabeth Joyce of 9 Harwick Street, to Francis Leo Watzka of East Kingston, at St. Joseph's Church, this city, on Saturday, June 6 before a Nuptial Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Joyce. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist and Robert Gallo sang several traditional wedding selections.

Thomas Joyce gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a gown of white chiffon fashioned with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a scooped neckline outlined with hand-clipped lace. The full skirt terminated in a chapel length train. A double crown of waxed orange blossoms secured the fingertip French illusion veil. She carried a stylized bouquet of lily-of-the-valley, white sweetheart roses and English ivy.

Miss Maureen Duffy of White Plains, served as maid of honor in a gown of Madonna blue torganza in princess fashion with abbreviated sleeves and a scooped neckline. The full skirt was floor length and she wore a crown of nylon braid with a circular tulle veil. Miss Duffy carried a crescent shaped bouquet.

When Mr. and Mrs. Watzka return, they will reside at Hillcrest Apartments, Miller's Lane, Kingston.

The committee in charge of the luncheon was as follows: Mrs. Harry Van DeMark, Mrs. Edward Parmenter, Mrs. Eugene Rider and Mrs. Charles Lamphere.

Kingston Day Unit held its annual spring luncheon at LeHerb's Restaurant on Thursday, June 11.

Presiding over the business meeting was Mrs. Charles Schulenberg. Tentative plans for the year's program were discussed.

A SUBSTITUTE CHAPERONE IS NECESSARY

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter, not quite 18, would like to go with several of her classmates to a dude ranch unchaperoned, for a weekend. My wife and I feel it is improper for girls of that age to go to places of that sort unchaperoned. What is your opinion?

Answer: Your daughter should not go unless there is someone in the management of the ranch who will chaperone her and her classmates.

Bridegroom's Presence at Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married soon and a shower is being given for his bride-to-be. I would like to know if my son should be present at the shower as the bride opens her gifts. The bride-to-be's mother says he should be there and I think not.

Will you please tell us who is right?

Answer: Most usually showers are for girls only because very often the presents given are the kind of things that would be embarrassing to open in the presence of men. However, in some communities, men are invited as well as girls and if other men are invited to this particular shower your son should of course be present, but not otherwise.

Uncertain Recognition

Dear Mrs. Post: Every once in a while when walking on the street an apparent stranger will smile, or bow, to me. I think it's a case of mistaken identity. What is the polite thing to do in this situation? Do I ignore the greeting and walk on, or do I return the bow, or smile, even though I do not recognize the person?

Answer: If you are like many of us and not always sure whether or not we know a passing face, it is better to return a bow, or a smile, than to risk cutting someone we should have recognized.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-3, entitled "The Clothes of the Bridal Party," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99 Station G, New York 19, N.Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Flag Is Emblem Of Unity, Elks Speaker Declares

"We should be proud of our Americanism, and willing to demonstrate it by performing our duties, meeting our responsibilities and participating in the celebration of all of our great patriotic holidays."

This was the message brought by W. Newcomb Calyer, Newburgh attorney, and surrogate of Orange County, as principal speaker at the Flag Day ceremony held by Kingston Lodge 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Surrogate Calyer was invited here as vice president of the East Central District, New York State Elks Association for the Sunday night program held at Academy Green.

"The Flag is the emblem of our unity, our strength, our freedom, and our glorious history. It can have no other character than that which we, the citizens of the United States, give it from generation to generation."

"Through the years, as the result of the sacrifices of our ancestors, the American Flag has become a great symbol of liberty to the people of the world. It is now our responsibility to maintain it as such."

The speaker said, "In some quarters, any public display of patriotism is ridiculed as being childish and beneath the dignity of those who consider themselves sophisticated. That is a serious indictment of the American people, because it is typical of our apathy toward the performance of all our duties and responsibilities as citizens of a country which still affords us a freedom of choice."

"That attitude of indifference is one of the greatest dangers which our country faces today. It is high time we changed those ideas..."

Tillson Vols Set Carnival July 2-4

Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, Inc., will hold its annual carnival at the firehouse grounds July 2, 3 and 4. The following chairmen have been appointed for the various booths:

James Hicks is chairman of the affair with Joseph Banach as co-chairman.

A picnic followed the meeting. Co-hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. Fahey, Edward Huben, Vladimir Bobri, Stephan Reposky assisted by James Fahey and Joseph Stein.

Mrs. Marie Oehrlein of Tillson, winner of the club's first $100 scholarship was guest at the meeting and was presented with her award. She has been accepted at the Benedictine School of Nursing and plans to enter in the fall.

The Mmes. Albert Duran, Albert Morelli and Joseph Stein gave a report on the proposed time and service auction to be held Saturday, July 18, 6:30 p.m. at Sportsman's Park, Rosendale. They reported that Fred Palmer will donate his services on that day. Members of the club and others in the area will be contacted to contribute to the sale. They will be asked to attach a tag to the donated item giving the price, and telling who donated it. Proceeds realized will be used for the many civic endeavors of the club including the loan closet and scholastic awards.

The tentative constitution was approved with the amendment that any member whose dues are in arrears for a year shall be so notified that her name is being placed on the inactive list for one year and, if the dues are not forthcoming at the end of that time, her name shall be dropped from the membership.

Kingston Braves Play Hoe-Bowl Wednesday

Little LEAGUERS

Johnny Eccleston of the Van's Auto Dodgers handed the V. A. A. Bus Indians their first defeat in two years in the Town of Ulster Little League.

Eccleston did it with a six-hitter, embellished by 12 strikeouts to score a 4-1 triumph over Bryant Burroughs.

The Kiwanis Yankees overwhelmed the Giants, 14 to 8, to tie them for second place, a game behind the league leading Indians.

Burroughs checked the Dodgers with only three hits but a couple of two-run innings proved the undoing of the Indians. Three of the six hits off Eccleston were doubles, including two by Bill Palen and one each by Bill Bassett and Lou Perry. Eccleston lost a shutout in the last inning.

The three Dodger singles went to John Fatum, Eccleston and John Thompson.

R. H.
Dodgers 002 020-4 3
Indians 000 001-1 6
John Eccleston and John Thompson; Bryant Burroughs and Bill Palen.

RICH KOYAN powered a double and two singles to pace the Yankees in their 14-8 romp over the Giants. The winners record 10 runs in the first two innings.

Al Koyan scattered eight hits for the Yankees and survived two bad innings. The Yanks picked up 8 hits off Bill McGill and Paul Koepen.

Al Koyan and Vic Herdman collected two singles apiece for the Yankees. Rod De Veau and Bill McGill each had two solo shots for the Giants.

Giants 030 014-8 8
Al Koyan and Carl Jones; Bill McGill, Paul Koepen and Ralph McCumber.

Yankees Beat Giants, 17-10

Nine first inning runs carried the Yankees to a 17-10 victory over the Giants in an East Kingston-Glasco Little League contest Monday.

The winners were outhit, 17-10, but they took advantage of 11 bases on balls to win the decision.

Jack Watzka had two doubles for the Giants. Other two base hits were socked by Joe Clausi, Bob Mayone, Rudy Mauro, Dom Sasso, Doug Kilburn, and Matty DePola.

Scoring by innings:
Giants 101 017-10
Yankees 930 23X-17
Dan Riozzi, Jack Watzka, Julius Chick and Joe Clausi. Dom Sasso and Doug Kilburn.

Egan Connects For 8th Homer

Bill Egan, the Mickey Mantle of the Town of Hurley Little League, connected for his eighth blast of the season yesterday as the Giants overpowered the Yankees, 18-2, in a league contest.

The winners stroked 13 base hits to back up Alen Pederson's tight pitching.

The losers scored their two runs in the first frame and enjoyed a temporary margin. However, an eight run second inning by the Giants put them ahead for good.

Scoring by innings:
Giants 080 415-18
Yankees 200 000-2
Alan Pederson and Ken Wommer.

Strong Bridge City Nine to Host Locals

Fred Davi, portly bossman of the Kingston Braves, is hoping for a break in the weather so that his ball club might evaluate its chances in the New York-New Jersey league race.

The locals are scheduled for an appearance at Poughkeepsie's Riverview field Wednesday night, 8 o'clock in a struggle against the Hoe-Bowl nine. Saturday, the Braves are scheduled to host the Jersey City Cardinals in a league tilt at Dietz Stadium.

The closest Kingston has come to playing a game was a week ago at Jersey City when the contest was halted in the fifth inning because of rain. The Cardinals were leading, 1-0, at that time.

DeVito to Hurl

The Hoe-Bowl club rates as one of the favorites to capture league honors. Lefty Larry DeVito, a product of the New York Giants farm system, is expected to take the hill against the Braves. DeVito has won two starts, an exhibition game against the famed Indianapolis Clowns and a league fracas against the Stewart Jets.

Operating behind DeVito are Fred Schmalberger, catcher; Billy Ostrom in first, Fran Soychak at second, Cart Bates at shortstop and Tom Lent at third. The outfield is comprised of Roger Callahan, Bob McKenna and Joe Tuttle Jr., Walker Shook and Berkley Murphy back up DeVito on the mound.

Bob Maines, who had a fling in the Chicago Cub farm system, will toe the slab for the Braves. The big southpaw was one of the earned run leaders in the league last season and is expected to be DeVito's number one chucker this time around.

Haney May Retire After This Year

LOS ANGELE (SAP)—Whether the Milwaukee Braves win the National League pennant—and/or World Series—this may be Fred Haney's last year as manager.

Haney has been appointed vice-president of the Studio City Bank, which opens next month in the San Fernando Valley, and he is anxious to spend more of his time here among his relatives and close friends. He has spent 42 years in baseball, is 61 years old, and says:

"I've reached a point in life where I want to enjoy myself, and that place is right here."

Haney said that whether the Braves win or lose the pennant the World Series will have no effect on his decision.

Scoring by innings:

Firemen 101 020 0-4
Ken Heppner, Joe Amendola, Bill Kennock and Dave Clearwater.

Jaycee Owls Top Crow Nine, 11-5

Jordan Pauker and John Schatzel collaborated on a 5-hitter and an 11-5 victory for the Jaycee Little League Owls over the Crows.

Tom Clancy went the distance for the Crows with a nine-hitter and six strikeouts. Pauker fanned six.

Niel Pauker slammed a double and a single for the Owls. Bill Miller and Tom Clancy each rapped two singles.

Tom Grossi Top Trapshooter

Tom Grossi is breaking targets at a .894 clip to hold down first place in the Ulster County Trapshooting Circuit. Runnerup is J. Moses with .867.

Erskine Quits Before Becoming 10 Year Man

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carl Erskine — the only active major league pitcher who has thrown two no-hit games—is through.

Refusing to let the Los Angeles

Dodgers carry him four more weeks, when he would become a

10-year man under the players' pension plan, the handsome little righthander asked Monday night to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

"When your time comes," he said, "the decision is not too hard to make. You know what's right."

"I came to the conclusion that this club really needs help in pitching. It's a young staff, so everybody has to be able to pitch

a couple of days in a row if necessary."

I just figured I couldn't give it 100 per cent any more."

In a game where most men need a sieve full of tricks to survive, the 32-year-old Erskine had been playing with no trump card.

"In my later games," he said,

"I knew I had to be extremely careful. It's true that the less accitual velocity or stuff you have, the less mistakes you can make.

When you get to the point where you're relying a lot on a change of pace—with no fastball to fall back on—you've really got to be careful."

Murrow Faces Threat In Track, Field Meet

By FRANK PITMAN

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Four years ago sprinter Bobby Morrow blazed to his first national victory on the cinder path here at the University of Colorado.

Now, weighted with honors, including three Olympic gold medals, a lame Bobby Morrow faces on these same cinders the biggest threat to his No. 1 world ranking.

In the National AAU Track and Field Championships Friday and Saturday, Morrow runs against a classic field. It was in the 1955 NAAU that Morrow, an Abilene Christian sophomore then, won his first national crown with a 9.5 seconds run in the 100 yard dash. The 23-year-old, 6-foot-2, 170-pounder lowered the NAAU mark to 9.4 last year.

Chief Challengers

His chief challengers are Bill Woodhouse, 21, 5-foot-10, Abilene Christian senior from Mason City, Iowa, and Ray Norton, San Jose, Calif., State senior. Like Morrow, both have churned the 100 in world record equaling official times of 9.3 seconds.

Several other collegians who've raced the distance in official 9.4 are in the field. They include Charlie Tidwell of Kansas, winner of the NCAA championship at Lincoln last Saturday with a wind-blown 9.3 Orlando Hazley of Oklahoma State and Bob Poynter, San Jose State.

Winner of 11 races in 14 starts this season, Morrow scored his last victory May 15 in the Coliseum Relays at Los Angeles.

First Dead Heat At Vernon Downs

By The Associated Press

The all-seeing camera blinked, then called it a tie, the first dead heat of the harness racing season at Vernon Downs.

Edgewood Lind, driven by Herman Ross, and Volo Mon, reined by Stanley Dancer, each crossed the finish line with a 2:10 mile Monday night.

Both are unbeaten, 2-year-old colts.

Edgewood Lind paid $3, Volo Mon, $2.50. Proud Sam, in third place, also paid $2.50.

Luxmite, a 3-year-old trotting filly, came on in the late stages to take a division of the Cambridge Trot at Saratoga Raceway. She paid $2.50.

Sunet Stormy, a $46.90 longshot, and Day Song Clay, a $4.70 favorite, won the other divisions of the Cambridge.

Major's Task scampered to victory by a length over Widow's Dream in the featured pace at Yonkers Raceway. The winner, owned by Edwin Lincoln of Cincinnati, N. Y., was clocked at 2:03 for the mile and paid $7.90. Meadow Pet was third.

In another development at Yonkers, the retirement of harness Racing's all-time money winner, 6-year-old Belle Acton, was announced. Her owner, George Landers of Kittery, Me., said he was taking her out of action because of lameness.

Belle Acton won $353,038 in her career and holds the all-time record for money won in a single year by a pacer, piling up winnings of $167,887 in 1958.

Anny Byrd won the Class A feature pace at Batavia Downs in 2:05 4/5 to pay $3.30. Burton Hanover was second.

35 Club Tops Hercules, 15-7

35 Club overpowered Hercules, 15-7, in a Recreation Softball League game. The winners had 14 hits and broke open a nip and tuck contest with six runs in the last inning.

Herm Sickler rapped a pair of doubles to lead the attack. Other doubles were hit by Monk Richards, Larry McCauley, Brenner and Ferraro.

Hunting Editor

New York State's 1958 deer season produced a hunter kill of 66,469.

Even if we add to that the number of venison steaks ruined by impact with fast-traveling automobiles, it isn't enough or in the right ratio of bucks and does to keep the herd healthy and in the right sex proportions.

It fails far short of the 25 percent mixed-sex harvest that game management officials are certain is right for civilized fringe sections.

Of the total, 42,209 were bucks — your correspondent helped that by popping his with 6 mm. wildcat rifle in the Catskills and 24,260 were does. The gimmick here is that all the does were shot in one day, Dec. 2, the last of the season, and what a madhouse that day was!

When you consider that sitting on a stump in New York State roughly one buck to 40 does, there's something wrong in those numbers.

Major's Task scampered to victory by a length over Widow's Dream in the featured pace at Yonkers Raceway. The winner, owned by Edwin Lincoln of Cincinnati, N. Y., was clocked at 2:03 for the mile and paid $7.90. Meadow Pet was third.

Patterson Training on His Own Johansson Defends His Chores

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Incensed at reports that he hasn't been taking his training chores seriously, Ingemar Johansson came to his own defense today.

"I have been out dancing just twice," the Swedish challenger for Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight championship said. "And I have been on just two television programs."

Johansson, the undefeated European champion who meets Patterson for the title June 25 in Yankee Stadium, is upset at reports that he lacks enthusiasm for his task.

Likewise, he can't understand why he is criticized for not going after his sparring partners with more gusto.

"I don't believe in trying to knock them out," he shrugged, "so why should anyone else care?"

To date, he has put in 131 rounds in the ring and has missed just two days of work.

Ingemar appears to be working for speed and stamina. He apparently has enough confidence in his punching ability to concentrate on other matters.

He is on the road every morning rain or shine, and runs like all get-out.

Monaghan Is Seen Close to End of Track Boss Reign

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The five-year, one-man reign of George P. Monaghan over harness racing in New York State appeared today to be close to collapse in the midst of scandal.

The Legislature is awaiting a summons from Gov. Rockefeller to meet in special session at the end of June, and he is expected to ask the lawmakers to re-establish a three-man harness racing commission.

Will Follow Governor

The Republican-controlled Legislature almost certainly would follow the Republican governor's bidding.

The three-man commission was abolished in 1954 when the then governor, Republican Thomas E. Dewey, appointed Democrat Monaghan to "rule with an iron hand" and rid the sport of hoodlums.

Monaghan now is accused by the State Investigation Commission of accepting favors from the tracks. A few weeks ago, he turned down a request by the governor that he resign.

Balk at Lengthy Session

Direct action to remove Monaghan through Senate proceedings probably would require a lengthy session. Leading legislators have balked at that.

But aides to the governor have pointed out that indirect action, through creation of a three-man commission, might be accomplished swiftly and easily.

One-Day Parley Seen

A one-day special session is anticipated.

The primary purpose would be to elect an Assembly speaker to succeed Oswald D. Heck, who died last month.

Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlini of Long Beach, L. I., is considered the front-runner.

However, the governor was understood to be delaying the call for a special session until he receives further assurance of Carlini's election, in view of some opposition among Upstate assemblymen.

Close Contests In Eastern Loop

By The Associated Press

It was hot and it was cold in the Eastern League Monday night.

The heat was generated by flaring tempers, come-from-behind victories and record crowds. But at Albany, it was so cold a scheduled game with Reading was postponed.

Williamsport held its league lead

by beating back Allentown's challenge 7-5 in 11 innings. Binghamton blew hot and cold but finally beat Lancaster 11-10. Springfield dumped York 7-4.

A season record crowd of 3,017 at Allentown was plunged into gloom when the Red Sox loaded

the bases in the last of the ninth and failed to score. Then Fred

Van Dusen reached first on a double by Jack Davis.

Unions Cornered Only for Moment; Chiefs See Rally

By NORMAN WALKER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A group of top union leaders complained today employers have them cornered for the moment. But they said this will rally to win new gains for workers.

Heads of former CIO unions now in the AFL-CIO said their style is cramped by business charges that labor is responsible for inflation, that unions are marked by corruption, and that labor groups wield vast monopoly power.

Call Charges Phony

Such union leaders as Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers, David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers and James B. Carey of the International Electrical Workers asserted the business charges are phony but have put labor in a tough position with the public.

The talks were made in a two-day conference of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department, home of most of the former CIO unions under the labor merger.

Reuther said unions are only temporarily stymied in gaining a shorter work week. He said anyone but an "economic fool" can see that a shorter work week is inevitable and the only question is "when and how we shall get it."

No Backward Steps

McDonald said the steel industry in current negotiations is seeking to wipe out contract gains bargained for over 18 years. But he pledged his union "positively" will never take a backward step.

Carey, in remarks prepared for today's concluding session, summed up a theme expressed by most other conference speakers.

"In the past year big business and industry—glutted by unprecedented profits and power—have declared almost open war on unionism," he said. "They are waging this war today at the bargaining table, in state legislatures and in Congress, and in violent opposition to union organizing campaigns."

Carey said that while labor monopoly is often used these days as a scare term no union can compare power to the grip the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. or General Motors Corp. have over their industries.

Salk Vaccine Is Urged by Cardinal

Francis Cardinal Spellman sent the following statement to the parishes of the Archdiocese of New York. Pulpit announcements embodying this message were read at all Masses in the Archdiocese Sunday, June 14.

"To the clergy, religious and faithful of the Archdiocese of New York I strongly recommend that all those who have not yet done so should arrange to have inoculations of the Salk vaccine. This is important for all and especially for children as it would be an agonizing experience for parents if their children were afflicted with polio when they realized that it could have been avoided through their foresight and cooperation."

Jury Indicts Eight Men in Textile Plot

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—A Vance County grand jury indicted eight men, including four union officials, on charges of plotting dynamite violence in the bitter textile strike here.

The jury returned the indictments Monday.

Boyd Payton of Charlotte, Carolinas director of the Textile Workers Union of America, was named with three other union officials. They are Lawrence Gore, a member of Payton's staff; Charles Auslander, chairman of the TWUA Joint Board at Spray, N.C.; and John Martin, vice president of Local 578 at the South Henderson plant of the struck Harriet-Henderson Mills.

Four strikers named in the indictments were Calvin Ray Pegram, Robert Edward Abbott, Warren Walker and Malcolm Jarrell. Each was freed under $15,000 bond.

The indictments charged the men with conspiring to dynamite a Carolina Power & Light Co. substation transformer which feeds power to the mills; dynamite the boiler room at the South Henderson mill; and destroy the main office building at the South Henderson mill.

The strike began Nov. 17 after the company called for removal of an arbitration clause in the contract. The two mills reopened for limited operations Feb. 16. This was followed by sporadic violence. National guardsmen have been on the scene since May 12.

Teeners Are Held On Boat Charge

Three 'teen age boys from Stottville were apprehended by Corporal Edward Shannon and Trooper Charles Teelon at the Hendrick Hudson marine basin at Ulster Landing Monday when they called to replenish their supply of gasoline in a boat which had been reported missing from Hudson.

A $3,000 20-foot Trojan cruiser equipped with a 75 horsepower motor had been stolen from Hudson, according to Ted Chidester of Union Turnpike, Hudson, Monday morning. Apprehended by the troopers was James Davis, 16, of Box 382, Stottville, and also taken into custody were his two 15-year-old companions. Davis was charged with grand larceny, first degree, and turned over to Detective William Harris of the Hudson police. The youths were taken back to Columbia County where the two 15-year-old youths will be charged with juvenile delinquency. Corporal Shannon said the boys were headed down-river when they ran short of gas and put it to replenish their supply.

Reports Chair Taken

Michael M. Mattia, operator of the Artistic Beauty Salon, 44 North Front Street, complained to police Monday that someone stole a red leather chair with chrome finish from the rear of his shop. He valued the chair at $25.

The scene of the siege was a quiet residential street on the north side of this east central Illinois city of 9,000 population.
